

Aero Sekur at DSEi 2009

Stand Number: 2264

Aero Sekur, the Anglo-Italian company specialising in safety systems and flexible structures, will exhibit a new generation of NBC and combat clothing at DSEi. Advanced materials combined with innovative construction and design techniques have resulted in defence apparel that offers significant weight and performance benefits compared to existing equipment.

Capability in the field of advanced defence clothing is confirmed with Aero Sekur's work as part of the "SOLDATO FUTURO" programme. The industrial collaboration comprises market leading development companies working to produce the Italian Future Soldier. Aero Sekur has specific responsibility for the development of NBC masks/canisters, NBC combat suits including NBC gloves and boots, combat suits, battle dress uniforms, combat boots, sniper suits and over-garments.

Details of Aero Sekur's full defence market product portfolio will be available at DSEi, including respirators and masks, NBC suits, combat suits, collective filtration systems, helicopter liferaft and flotation systems, fuel tanks and protected inflatable structures.

Aero Sekur has extensive manufacturing and R&D facilities in Italy and representation worldwide. The company has a track record dating back over forty years supplying the defence sector.
